DENMARK'S NEW CHURCH.

THE BAPTIST BRETHREN DEDICATE THEIR NEW HOUSE OF WORSHIP.

Short History of the Old Church—Description of the New Building with Sketch of the Pastor—Faithful Work of Members.

The first Sabbath in May was a great day with the Baptists at Denmark, for it was then they dedicated their beautiful new house unto the Lord. It was an ideal day in the low country. As I journeyed, early that morning, to be present on this memorable occasion, I could not help rejoicing on account of the day. The sky was clear and the sun was shining, flooding the world with its warmth and brightness. It was a glorious morning. A sweet peace, a holy calm had settled down upon the world and it was broken only by the puffing and roaring of our train. It was the Sabbath day in the dear old Sunny South.

Early in the morning the beautiful town of Denmark was alive with people coming in from the country, from Bamberg, Blackville, Branchville, St. George, Orangeburg, Barnwell and other places, to be present at the dedicatory services. Dr. C. C. Brown, an old Barnwell boy, was to preach the sermon, and he proved a drawing card.

Denmark is a town of eight hundred people, situated just half way between Bamberg and Blackville and seven miles distant from each. It is made up of two towns, East and West Denmark. The name of the place used to be Grams. There are three trunk lines of railroads running into Denmark, the Southern, the Coast Line, and Seaboard Air Line. It is a lively town and someday will be a place of much importance. The people are kind and hospitable and live in beautiful homes with seeming abundance about them.

THE DENMARK CHURCH.

Springtown church was chartered by the State in 1803. In 1840-3 Mr. Lenten Lee, W. B. Dowling and T. J. Counts withdrew from this church and formed the Cedar Springs Baptist church. For some reason or other this church never had a house of worship. Later on it became the Graham church, and in 1852 a church lot was given by Mr. H. B. Rice, a building erected, and Brethren Lee and Dowling were elected deacons. In 1901 this building was burned and the church dedicated last Sunday has come forth from the ashes of the old building. The mother went all her life without a church home, the daughter receives her worshippers and friends in a beautiful temple! The church has had some able pastors and preachers, among them Brethren S. B. Sawyer, W. D. Rice, M. R. Suates, a converted Jew who did a great work, Henry Hartzog, L. Cuthbert, J. C. Browne, James Buist, Wm. Haynsworth, W. E. Johnson, J. I. Ayres and B. M. Foreman.

THE PRESENT PASTOR.

Bro. Foreman came to the pastorate in January, 1903. He found the church without a building and torn by internal strife, and the prospect looked gloomy. But the discouraged band could not long withstand his hopeful and brave ministry. His sermons were thrilling, powerful and hopeful and soon the little band was at work and gathered inspiration and strength as the days went by. The brethren all recognize and appreciate the excellent work of their pastor. He has been a foreman to this band of workers, leading and directing with cautious wisdom but earnest enthusiasm and skill. He has written himself deep in the hearts of his people, and the message he has written will last as long as life itself. B. M. Foreman was born in Aiken county, near Beech Island, I should say some thirty-five or forty years ago. He was educated at Milledgeville, Ga., and Mercer University, graduating in 1888, and from the Seminary at Louisville two years later. He joined the church at the age of twenty and baptised his father, Dr. Isaac Foreman, a leading man of Beech Island, and also his mother into the church. His first pastorate was in Barnwell county. He was pastor at Four Holes church, in Orangeburg county, for nine years and did a fine work with this good church. He has also been pastor of the Black Creek church, Darlington, and at Georgetown, where he had to leave on account of his health. He married Miss Martin, of Virginia, 1892, and one child has blessed the union. Mrs. Foreman is an experienced worker and a great help to her husband. Their home is in Orangeburg, where they keep open house to preachers and general denominational workers. Bro. Foreman is a hard worker, a successful pastor, a preacher above the average.

THE NEW BUILDING.

About twelve months ago the church, having hardly a membership of eighty in number, began the erection of their new house. Bro. C. C. Ellzey was made chairman of the building committee with Brethren W. H. Kearse and G. W. Hightower as his assistants. Bro. Ellzey runs a farm, livery stable, hotel, meat market, and yet he had time to push the work and give much time to it, and by his faithfulness made a name for himself that will be worth more than fine gold. But the members, few in number, did noble work and there was much sacrificing that the house might go up. One lady, working for wages, gave ten dollars per month for several months. The house is a beautiful one and would do credit to a much larger place than Denmark. We hope later to give a cut of the building. The inside is beautifully finished. The ceiling is a four square, hanging canopy, double cone, the windows are colonial art glass, the inside is painted white with gold trimmings. There are two open vestibules, three Sunday-school rooms, and the pews are circular and of sawed oak. The church is beautifully furnished and on Sunday was artistically decorated. The dimensions of the church are 51x71, and with comfortably seat four hundred people. At cost when finished $4,000, all of which was paid for except a balance on the pews. This is a magnificent showing and the church is greatly to be congratulated. As it is such a small band that has done all this, I cannot refrain from mentioning the names of some of the more loyal ones who have stood by the committee: First are Senator and Mrs. S. G. Mayfield, Mrs. J. R. Martin, J. E. Steadman, Miss Turner, W. F. Rice, I. C. Metts, C. E. Tyler, J. E. Tant, Mrs. Joe Guess, Mrs. James, Mrs. Abstance, Misses Carroll and Reaves.

THE DEDICATION.

The church was filled to overflowing. There were present, to take part, the pastor of the Methodist church, M. W. Rankin, of St. George, and Dr. C. C. Brown. One special feature was the excellent music by the choir. Dr. Brown was in the spirit for preaching and greatly thrilled the people and stirred them with a mighty power. His text was from Ezra 1:3, and as he pictured the Jews toiling and sacrificing to rebuild the temple he evidently touched very deeply the experience of many of his hearers, and because they had had this experience it made their hearts thrill and their eyes to become misty with tears.

Pastor Foreman briefly but interestingly gave the history of the church and of their struggles and successes. A good collection was taken, after which the pastor made the dedicatory prayer and the beautiful church at Denmark was given to the Lord. Surely rich spiritual blessings will fall on this people for this gift of love.

At night the writer preached to a large audience and there was more sweet singing. My home was with Brethren Steadly and Ellzey, and the day was greatly enjoyed.—J. E. M. in Baptist Courier.

Letter to D. W. Shealy, Bamberg, S. C.

Dear Sir: Porterhouse, so much; neck, so much; all the way between. Just so with paint. Devote lead-and-zinc is the porterhouse. Nobody wants the neck; the between, some say, is good enough for them.

But Devote costs less, not more, than between. Lead-and-oil is between; it is the old-fashion paint. But zinc has come in. Zinc toughens white lead. Devote lead-and-zinc is the paint that wears twice as long as lead-and-oil.

Mr. John G. Deitel, Fair Haven, N. Y., writes:

"Mr. Charles Hollenbeck, of this place, painted his house three years ago with Devote lead-and-zinc; his father painted at the same time with lead-and-oil. To-day the son's house looks as well as the day it was painted, while the father's house has all chalked off and needs painting very badly. The father says he will paint with Devote next time."

Yours truly
F W DEVOTE & Co.

Where He Caught Him.

The bank president was talking to an applicant for a position in the bank, says the Kansas City Times.

"Our employees must be absolutely honest of course," he said.

"I am honest," replied the applicant.

"Do you pay your debts?" asked the president.

"Yes, sir."

"Would you pay even a poker debt?"

"Yes, sir."

"I'm sorry," said the president, "but we have no place for you."

When the applicant had left a friend of the president ventured to ask:

"Why didn't you employ him? He's apparently honest enough."

"Well," replied the president, "he probably wouldn't steal, but he tells lies. No man ever pays poker debts."

LADIES AND CHILDREN

who can not stand the strain of laxative syrups and cathartic pills are fond of Little Early Risers. All persons who find it necessary to take a liver medicine should try these pills, and compare the pleasant and strengthening effect with the nauseating and weakening conditions following use of other remedies. Little Early Risers cure biliousness, constipation, sick headache, jaundice, malaria and liver troubles. Sold by H. F. Hoover.

An Amusing Entertainment.

On one night next week, the exact date to be announced later, the people of Bamberg and the surrounding country will be given the greatest treat of the season. Several of our most prominent young ladies and young gentlemen have been busily engaged getting ready to present a lively farce comedy, "All a Mistake." The play deals in an amusing and instructive way with the all-consuming passion of human life, love, and the audience will enjoy the novel and interesting way in which this modern love story unravels the mystifying position and conviction an obstinate uncle's mistake caused. Let every one come. Home talent. The purpose is for the Epworth League's mission fund and pledged to Grandberry college, Brazil. It is good. The play will be in the Carlisle fitting School chapel. Refreshments served on the campus. Full announcements next week.

COUNTRY NEWS LETTERS.

SOME INTERESTING HAPPENINGS IN VARIOUS SECTIONS.

News Items Gathered All Around the County and Elsewhere. Ehrhardt Etchings.

EHRRARDT, May 16.—Just two miles from town is situated a beautiful church in a lovely oak and pine grove. It is Mt. Pleasant Evangelical Lutheran church, and its thriving Sunday-school, together with its very large church membership, bespeak for it many years of continued growth and prosperity.

This church has always been in a thriving condition, having always been able to secure as its pastors some of the very best men in the South Carolina Synod.

For a number of years past it has been the custom to observe Ascension Day, thereby commemorating the ascension of the Savior of the world into Heaven from this earthly pilgrimage. An annual picnic is held for this purpose, and is attended from far and near by all denominations. The morning part of the day is devoted to religious exercises, and after dinner, which is served on the grounds, the day is given over to the young people to spend as they see fit.

So last Thursday, May 12th, being the day for the annual celebration, the picnic came off, and as is usual, without a hitch. The weather was perfect, a more beautiful day could not have been picked, and except the little dust that rose from travelers' vehicles going and coming there was nothing to mar the comfort of the day.

At an early hour the roads from every direction were filled with vehicles of all descriptions, and at 11 o'clock there were not less than 1000 persons on the grounds, and they were still coming.

Exactly at 11 o'clock the sweet notes of Hymn No. 14 filled the large building. The choir rose en masse and sang as only Mt. Pleasant people can sing. The church quickly filled to overflowing, as everybody knew what was coming, and then the real program commenced.

Hymn No. 79 was sung by the choir, the congregation joining in, and after the close of the hymn the congregation remained standing while the pastor, Rev. P. E. Monroe, asked God's richest blessings on all those present. No. 55 was then sung, and Mr. S. W. Copeland in a few words welcomed the throng to Mt. Pleasant and the annual picnic, which was immediately followed by Hymn No. 96, and then the first speaker, Rev. E. M. McKissick, was introduced by Mr. Copeland and to say that his address, while short, was interesting, would be attested to by everyone present.

Hymn No. 160 was ably rendered by the choir, after which D. J. B. Black, of Bamberg, was presented and made a short, spicy address that was much appreciated. He paid the ladies a very high compliment, and said that any young man wanting a wife should come here to get it, as he had found one here years ago and he was sure that there were more here that would make good wives. After singing another hymn, No. 167, Pastor Monroe in a few very appropriate words announced that dinner would be spread in the grove and invited everybody to come up and join him. The closing song was then sung, after which the benediction was pronounced by Rev. McKissick and the crowd immediately repaired to the many tables in the grove, measuring in all nearly 200 feet, where the display of eatables beggars description. The good women actually outdid each other in the tempting viands spread on the groaning tables, and still there wasn't room for all the good things that had been brought, several parties spreading on the ground. Just after a short prayer had been offered by Rev. McKissick, the committee on lemonade announced that the ice cold beverage was ready and could be had for the asking. Many people took advantage of the opportunity, and served the lemonade along with the excellent dinner to their friends.

After everybody had eaten their fill there was enough left to feed as many more. A glance down the long tables could not show that there was so very much of the good things gone, and yet everybody had had enough and to spare. All through the afternoon the committee still continued to serve the cool, delicious lemonade until everyone had enough. The crowd didn't break up as early this year as usual, which is positive proof that the day was enjoyed by all present. Many folks said that it had not been their pleasure to attend a nicer quieter picnic in their lives.

A good number of political aspirants were present, so you may be sure that everybody received a hearty handshake. Another day has come and gone and Mt. Pleasant is one year older, with another picnic to her credit.

Oh! for a nice shower on the wilting crops to revive hope in the farmers' hearts.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Jones and little son Earle, of Bishopville, are visiting at the home of Capt. W. E. Sease.

Miss Ada Lilly Speights, of Hendersonville, is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. W. B. Moore.

Mrs. F. E. Copeland returned from Williston last Tuesday, where she has been visiting the sick family of her brother, Mr. W. H. Eaves.

Dr. Kinsey and family, of Bamberg, where here last Friday, en route to Colleton county, where they will remain a short time, visiting relatives.

The county campaigns will soon begin, and let us hope that there will be no mud-slinging this year. If any office-seeker can't be elected on his own merits he ought not to have the office at all.

Close Game Played.

DENMARK, May 13.—A fine game of ball was played here yesterday afternoon between the Williston-Blackville team and the Denmark team. The visitors won by a score of 4 to 2.

The Denmark school nine had invited the school boys of Williston to come down for a game, and were much surprised to find that the above combination had been formed. The visitors had some fast ball players from both towns, and, of course, Denmark did not wish to disappoint them and proceeded to entertain them in the best style possible on short notice.

This was Denmark's second game this season, having played a game last Saturday afternoon with Barnwell with a score of 9 to 8 against the visitors.

Blight in All Things and Roosevelt Too.

Suggested in seeing the great blight in the pear tree. It will be observed where the subject word is dropped primals as well as finals rhyme.

Blight in the Eden home,
Blight in the apple and pear;
Blight in the peach and plum,
Blight, blight everywhere,
Blight in home and flower,
Blight in miladie's bow'r,
Blight in the oats and wheat,
Blight in the garden neat,
Blight in the Southern breeze,
Blight in the Northern freeze,
Blight in the West wind's breath,
Blight in the East wind—death,
Flaw in each stone and rock,
Awe in the seismic shock,
Blight in the poor man's lurch,
Blight in the rich man's church,
Germes young in nature's womb,
Worms old in art's dark tomb,
Blight in banc and at bar,
Blight in nations at war,
Fight 'tween Japs, Asians, Slav—
Might will ruin or have,
Right in its own blood may lave,
Blight in the fading sick,
Blight in body politic,
Blight in the congress halls,
Blight in the P. O. "stew,"
Blight in the cabinet brawls,
Blight in the White House too,
Blight from monopolies,
Blight from the hated trusts,
Blight in high offices—
Blight in Czar Teddy's thrusts,
Blight in his awful malice,
Blight in his "sorrow's chalice,"
Slime in the Augean stable,
Crime at the aut'crat's table,
Dined the Afrite sable,
Wined him—this no fable—
"Shame" yawned the black man's mouth,
"Fame" groaned the white man South,
Dinned here it hummed the cable,*
Blight, blight on sea and land,
Blight on every hand—
Blight, will thy doom come
Ere the millennium?

A STARTLING TEST.

To save a life, Dr. T. G. Merritt, of No. Mehopyny, Pa., made a startling test result in a wonderful cure. He writes, "a patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in 14 months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation and kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50c, at J. B. Black, Bamberg; H. C. Rice, Denmark.

The Orangeburg District Meeting of W. H. M. S.

The Orangeburg District meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society will be held at Orangeburg, S. C., June 10-12. Mrs. Wait, our conference corresponding secretary, will be with us. All ministers and their wives are invited to attend. It is earnestly desired that each auxiliary in the district send a delegate. Send name to Mrs. G. C. Dantzier.

Miss LLEWELLYN CLECKLEY,
District Secretary.

A SURE THING.

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for lung and throat troubles. Mrs. C. B. VanMetre, of Sheperdstown, W. Va., says: "I had a severe case of bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It's infallible for cough, whooping cough, grip, pneumonia and consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by J. B. Black, Bamberg; H. C. Rice, Denmark. Trial bottles free. Regular size 50c, $1.00.

Most people who grant a favor expect two in return.

Sick headache results from a disordered stomach and is quickly cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Bamberg Pharmacy; H. C. Rice.

Raymond Brown, a 14-year-old lad, whose father is keeper of Elmwood cemetery in Columbia, was drowned in the canal near his home last Thursday. He was discovered alone and struggling in the water by a party of boys, two of whom went to his rescue, but he sank before they could reach him.

WHOOPING COUGH.

"In the spring of 1901 my children had whooping cough," says Mrs. D. W. Capps, of Capps, Ala. "I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with satisfactory results. This is the best remedy I have ever seen for whooping cough." This remedy keeps the cough loose; lessens the severity and frequency of coughing spells and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. Sold by Bamberg Pharmacy; H. C. Rice.

He Carried His Samples.

During the Louisville Presbytery last week, says an exchange, Delegate Hawthorne, of Princeton, told this story of pioneer days, and vouched for its accuracy: One of the circuit riders in my part of the State was extremely fond of pepper sauce, and as he could seldom find any strong enough at places where he stopped, he always carried a bottle with him. He happened to be at a hotel one night, though he usually stopped at the home of a friend. A man sat across the table from him, and, seeing the sauce, asked if the minister would share it with him. The request was granted, and the stranger poured out a liberal allowance of the sauce into his soup. At the first swallow he made a very dry face and blurted out: "Minister, do you preach hell?" "Yes, was the reply. "Why do you ask?" "Because you are the first preacher I ever saw who carried samples," was the answer.

THE LADIES favor painting their churches, and therefore we urge every minister to remember we give a liberal quantity of the Longman & Martinez paint toward the painting. Wears and covers like gold. Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for linseed oil (worth 60 cents) which you do when you buy other paints in a can with a paint label on it. 8 & 6 make 14, therefore when you want fourteen gallons of paint, buy only eight of L. & M., and mix six gallons pure linseed oil with it, and thus get paint at less than $1.20 per gallon. Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M. and three gallons linseed oil mixed therewith. These celebrated paints are sold by Bamberg Pharmacy, Bamberg, S. C.; J. G. Wannamaker Mfg. Co., Orangeburg, S. C.

MT. PLEASANT PICNIC.

The Herald Man Spends a Pleasant Day Among the Good Old German Descendants in the Ehrhardt Community.

On Thursday morning last, comfortably seated behind a dashing steed, with visions of chicken, cake and other precious viands engaging my thoughts, I left the city of Bamberg for Mt. Pleasant Lutheran church, near Ehrhardt, to attend the annual picnic of that community. The day was an ideal May-day, and the drive was pleasant and invigorating. All along the route could be seen all kinds of vehicles wending their ways to Mt. Pleasant. The Mt. Pleasant picnic is an annual affair and everybody, far and near, anxiously look forward to the event, which takes place on Ascension Day.

On arriving at the church I found an immense crowd gathered. The beautiful grove was crowded with carriages, buggies and wagons in which could be seen baskets, trunks and boxes filled with supplies for the inner man. The forest resounded with the merry laughter of the young people of both sexes, who perhaps, had not as yet reached an age to know a care or a sorrow. While standing at the well taking copious draughts from "The old oaken bucket, the iron-bound bucket" and gazing upon this inspiring scene of peace and happiness, I could not refrain from muttering,

"Fond memory paints the scenes of other days,
Bright be their memory still;
And bright amid those joyous scenes always
Is the picnic on the hill."

The exercises in the church consisted of addresses and music, a detailed account of which is given by our regular correspondent in another column.

At the close of the exercises in the church preparations for dinner were commenced and soon the several long tables were groaning under the weight of the many delicious edibles prepared by the good women for the occasion. I was taken in charge by Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Copeland, and it goes without saying that they dispensed their hospitality with lavish hands. The dinner was truly elegant and the supply was bountiful. Besides cool and sparkling water from a well on the grounds, ice-cold lemonade was dispensed free to all. In fact, nothing was left undone to make the occasion pleasant to everyone who attended.

In the afternoon I spent a few hours in the town of Ehrhardt. This is a new town but is rapidly building up. The streets are regularly laid off and are kept in a clean condition. Business seems to be lively and the people are hospitable, clever and sociable. Mr. C. Ehrhardt, who is one of the pioneers of Lutheranism in that section, is the moving spirit of the town. His counsel and advice in every undertaking looking to the interest and upbuilding of the town is always sought. A handsome Lutheran church has just been erected in the town, which is built in the most modern style of architecture and is an ornament to the town.

On account of a prevailing drouth the crops in that section are considerably backward and the stands are poor.

THE HERALD'S subscription list was made healthier as a result of the trip, and for this and other courtesies shown me I return my sincere thanks to those good people.

The Judge Rewarded.

A certain judge who possesses a degree from a leading university dropped in one day at a new tourist resort, incidentally to see the decorations of the place, says the San Francisco, Cal. When the judge entered, one of the barkeepers was discouraging to a customer upon the beauty of a stained glass window.

"Dat window," he said, "is de hand-somest one in any joint in town. I don't know what dat Eytalian on it means. Wish't I did."

"That motto," said the judge, obligingly, "is 'Dum vivimus vivamus,' and means, 'While we live, let us live.'"

"Say," replied the barkeeper, "ain't dat great! I'm mighty glad to know what dat apiel stands for."

The next day, the judge being in the same neighborhood, again entered the resort to get some refreshment, when the barkeeper cheerily greeted him: "Good mornin', Professor. Glad to see you. Say, I'll give ouse some good whiskey dis time."

GROWING ACHES AND PAINS.

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Texas, writes: "I used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family three years. I would not be without it. I used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best liniment I ever used." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Dr. H. F. Hoover.

"Yes," said Representative Cushman, of Washington, in a speech a night or two ago, "there are a lot of men out in the country who are for Roosevelt. I asked one of them why one day, and he replied: 'Well, I'll tell you. He is the only man in public life who looks worse than his cartoons, and he must be all right.'"

MADE YOUNG AGAIN.

"One of Dr. King's New Life Pills each night for two weeks has put me in my 'teens' again" writes D. H. Turner, of Dempseytown, Pa. They're the best in the world for liver, stomach and bowels. Purely vegetable. Never gripe. Only 25c, at J. B. Black; H. C. Rice.
